Riskallah Riyad
 Southbury, CT

Riskallah Riyad is an instructor and performer of unparalleled originality. Her combinations and choreographies are imaginative and challenging. Her love of dance and unlimited vitality show in both the classroom and in each and every performance. Her solo and ensemble choreographies in folk and classical Oriental styles demonstrate a deep understanding of their cultural origins. Her work always retains an authentic flavor while being distinctly her own. Further, her contemporary fusion works succeed in expressing modern day reverence, mystery, and appreciation for drama.

Riskallah will present Embrace the Silence, techniques for introducing the unique energy of stillness into your dance through phrasing, pauses, breathing, and complete cessation of movement. Learn to speak volumes through the many sounds of silence.

Habiba
 Philadelphia, PA

Habiba is internationally recognized as a performer, choreographer, teacher and authority on dances of the Middle East. She was a student of Ibrahim Farrah for many years. On numerous trips to Tunisia and Egypt, she studied with members of the Tunisian National Folklore Troupe, and top Egyptian teachers including Raqia Hassan, Mahmoud Reda and Nadia Hamdi. An outreach lecturer for the Penn Museum of Archaeology and author of numerous mideastern dance articles for national magazines, she currently writes for The Chronicles of Belly Dance. Honors include the AAMED Belly Dance Hall of Fame (1997), 2001 IAMED Ethnic Dancer of the Year, and 2014 Jewel of the Orient Icon Award.

Habiba will present a choreography for a Beledi Progression, the heart and soul of Egyptian raqs al sharqi, and the (originally improvised) bridge between the taqsim and the drum solo. The choreography is suitable for a stand-alone performance, or to be included in your Egyptian-style performance.

Performing slots for the dance party are available on a first-come, first-served basis (priority is given to returning performers who were wait-listed the previous year). Twelve openings are reserved for returning performers, and six are reserved for new participants. Open dance slots will be filled from the waiting list after the preregistration cutoff. To be fair to everyone, performers may only dance once (group or solo). You MUST register for the seminar to qualify for a place in the program.

Routines are limited to seven minutes (but remember, less is sometimes more). Music must be on CD-R (not CD-RW). MP3 format is NOT supported.

Chelydra
 Newport News, VA

Early in her career as a middle eastern dancer, Chelydra fell in love with the folk dances of North Africa and the Middle East. As the original artistic director of the Caravan East Dance Troupe, and then through Dancing Turtle Folk Arts, she has performed and taught these dances throughout the mid-Atlantic region for more than two decades, and is proud to have been selected twice to perform in the ODU Local Choreographer's Showcase. She considers dance to be serious fun.

Chelydra will present Amp It Up!, adding the "live performance" impact of zils (finger cymbals) when dancing to recorded music. Learn to play your cymbals intuitively, using rhythm, melody, patterns, and accent.
